To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my support of the radio network KLOVE which we frequently listen to in our area of Winchester, KY. We enjoy their positive music and information both at home and in our physical therapy clinic. Stations such as this are vitally important in spreading positive messages through the community which would otherwise not be heard. There is a low power Christian station in our area, but it does not provide the music and especially the services that KLOVE supplies.

Apart from the music, KLOVE offers very important services to various charitable organizations and especially serves those people who are struggling with personal problems. They are the ONLY station to provide full time pastoral services to those in need and, in fact, have an extensive history of assisting those at the brink of suicide, divorce, and other social ailments that arise mostly out of an absence of positive influences such as that provided by KLOVE.

I urge you to allow KLOVE to continue operation in its current fashion. To lose the services of this great station would be a substantial loss to not only our community, but to any other community that they serve.

Sincerely,
Jason A. Goumas
